

You've written a book (or a report or white paper?)! Congratulations!

Don't tell me — let me guess: It's not published. You don't have a publisher or an agent. You might self-publish, but you're not sure the manuscript is ready for prime time. In fact, you're somewhat nervous about putting this manuscript out there right now. You think it needs review by a professional, maybe even some serious (or light) editing.

You want a confident, experienced team of writers and editors, with published books under their collective belt, to read your manuscript and advise you about one or more of these things:

- Structure, organization, format, basic approach
- Flow, logic, sequence, pace
- [If fiction] Characterization, plot development, dialogue and action
- Tone, language
- Grammar, usage, mechanics

Maybe you've looked at the big-name companies online, and the price tag or timeline made you think twice. Or maybe you just want to work with a smaller, friendlier, more personal organization. So you're considering Tamarack Communication.

You might be surprised to know that we've been editing, writing and ghostwriting for published authors for a long time. In fact, a number of the books we've edited are for sale right now on Amazon.com. Check these out, for starters:

- Handbook of Consequence Investing, Robert Jackson
- Educating the Soul: Spiritual Healing and our Eternal Psychology, Eric Thorton
- You and your Money: a No-Stress Guide to Becoming Financially Fit, Lois Vitt & Karen Murrell
- Mother Nature v. Father God, Lawson Riddle
- Venus Summer Shape-up, Venus Swimwear Company
- Re-energize your Printing Business, Michael Kind
- The Yellow Line: Before the Holocaust, Paul Barlin
- A Dancer on the Edge, Paul Barlin
- From Andrew with Love, Paul Barlin

And we can help you too. We're ready to jump into your project wherever you need us and render the level of expert editing you request.

Give us a try. We have a pleasant surprise in store for you.
