Dear Lynn,

We are thrilled with the services that your company is providing for us! As you know, EyePACS LLC is a small company with an international reach, providing telemedicine services for eye care. Your help with communication strategy and implementation is tremendously important to our growth and development.

Tamarack Communication is developing with us a cohesive, effective messaging platform and a plan to make it work to serve our current clients and cultivate new ones. In a short time since we started with Tamarack Communication, the brand new web site, all new trade show materials, survey design and reporting, and leadership for our small staff has already made a great difference in our business.

It's great to be able to rely on your energetic support, providing knowledge, experience, and creative direction to our company's communications.

Thank you!

Jorge Cuadros, O.D., Ph.D.
